

ⓘ Reminder on the Sale and Usage of Non-Standard and Uncertified Communication Devices

The Malaysian Communications and Multimedia Commission (MCMC) has reminded that the sale and use of any radio-frequency identification (RFID), cordless phone, audio video transmitter and cellular booster devices without MCMC label is prohibited. The usage of these non-standard and uncertified devices may lead to disturbance in the radio spectrum and affect the quality of communications services utilised by the public.

The usage and sale of any non-standard and uncertified devices is an offence under the Communications and Multimedia Act 1998 and Communications and Multimedia (Technical Standards) Regulations 2000 which upon conviction carries a fine of not more than RM100,000 or imprisonment not exceeding 2 years, or both. Please visit MCMC's Check Your Label website at cyl.mcmc.gov.my for more information.

Members are advised to adhere to the above accordingly.
