Media Release Following Malaysia's 14th General Election

The Real Estate and Housing Developers' Association Malaysia (REHDA) wishes to express our congratulations to Yang Amat Berhormat Tun Dr Mahathir b Mohamad, for his appointment as the 7th Prime Minister of Malaysia.

The just concluded 14th General Election demonstrated that the democratic process is very much alive and well in Malaysia. As an apolitical organisation, REHDA pledges our commitment to work with the Government of the day for the betterment of the industry and the rakyat as a whole. It is now incumbent upon all the elected representatives to make good their election promises to the rakyat. There will be heightened expectations on the new Government to further improve the nation's competitiveness by enhancing our whole delivery system and efficiency. Efforts in this direction should augur well for the economy and improve our image as an investment destination, said REHDA President, Datuk Seri FD Iskandar.

We laud Pakatan Harapan's manifesto on housing which contains a number of proposals that REHDA has been requesting for. However, a more holistic approach is needed to tackle some of the long impending issues such as the affordable housing and increasing compliance costs. We look forward to working closely with the relevant Ministries and agencies on various issues affecting the industry and hope the new leadership will continue to adopt a business-friendly approach.

We await the announcement of the new Minister of Housing, whom we are positive will be working closely with industry players in finding solutions to further uplift the industry, concluded Datuk Seri FD Iskandar.
